VICTORIA (B. C.) June 10.—The steamer Arrow, from the Pacific coast, tonight brought a number of delegates from the South Sea colonies to the International Trade Conference, to be held in Ottawa the latter part of this month. They are all anxious for closer relationship with Canada, and the conference will be one of the most notable in colonial history. The delegates were met by and are the guests of the Victoria Board of Trade.

The proposed British cable from Canada to Australia, and the annexation of Samoa, or the future of that country, at least, besides the commercial features of international trade development and the legislation necessary in that direction will form the conference programme. The Samoan trouble is still very much unsettled and is a source of grave anxiety to the nations interested in the South Seas. It is not at all likely that the solution of the problem will be found in the annexation of New Zealand, as the Samoan people being a unit in opposition, urging the inability of New Zealand to protect Samoa, if acquired.

The Arrow left Honolulu on the 23 of June. The new constitution of Hawaii was the all-absorbing topic of conversation and debate. It had just been promulgated and published, and contained many features peculiar to itself and interesting to the students of national history and jurisprudence. Its first section, dealing with the rights of persons and property, recognizes God as the supreme ruler of the country, and declares that the rights of equity and liberty of the press and subjects. Any paper, however, which advocates restoration of the monarchical government, or any paper which advocates the Queen's cause, or suggesting force to accomplish a change of government, shall be considered a traitor, and treated accordingly.

The right of habeas corpus is declared to be vested in all men, and only to be suspended in time of national peril. It is not available to persons having entered the country illegally. The right of trial in all cases is declared, and slavery forever prohibited. Whenever a slave shall enter the territory of this republic, the constitution in the Hawaiian Islands.

Articles 11, 12 and 13, relating to the powers of taxation and appropriation vested in the Legislature, of eminent domain, and of military subordination to law, follow closely the lines of the American constitution.

The republic of Hawaii is the form of government decided upon, the territory to include all the islands and reefs of the Kingdom of Hawaii, and the right to citizenship is extended to:

First—Persons born in the Hawaiian Islands.

Second—Persons naturalized, according to the provisions of the law in this behalf.

Third—Persons who, not being Hawaiian citizens, have taken active part in the formation of the republic or supported the provisional government, in whose case all usual qualifications are known and the process of naturalization to be similar to that of the United States, applicants being required to declare at least one year's residence in the islands and foreign travel of permanent location; they must also be able to read, write and speak the English language, and to explain in English the principles of the constitution; they must be citizens or subjects of a country having treaty relations with the Hawaiian republic; or of a country having friendly relations with the Hawaiian republic.

The government of the republic is a limited monarchy, the executive power is vested in the president, and the legislative power is vested in the Legislature, consisting of two houses, senate and house of representatives, which shall organize and sit separately, except as specially provided otherwise. The senate shall consist of fifteen members, and be elected to hold office for six years; the house of representatives shall consist of fifteen members, elected every second year. A senator must be at least thirty years of age, and a citizen of not less than ten years, and a citizen; he shall be elected to hold office for six years and cannot succeed himself in office.

The president, with the approval of the senate, appoints members of the cabinet, judges of the supreme and circuit courts, the auditor-general and district judges, consular representatives to foreign countries. Minor appointments, officials of all classes resident in the country, also are to be named by the president and his cabinet. The president may pardon, except in cases of impeachment, rests with the president. After the president comes minister of foreign affairs, minister of interior, minister of finance, and minister of justice, in order of priority as named, who shall be ex-officio members of both houses with all rights except that of voting.

LONDON MARKETS.

Silver is firmer—American and Foreign Stocks.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

LONDON, June 10.—(By Atlantic Cable.) The rates for money are apparently at low-water mark. The three-months' bills were taken during the week as low as 1-1-16, while the belief in continued ease is shown by the fact that six-months' paper has been discounted at 1 per cent. Gold continues to flow in and £1,000,000 are now en route. Silver was firmer on Chinese buying. The stock market was generally active. There was a fair business in investment securities. In other stocks there was slight fluctuations chiefly due to professional dealings. The premium to which the new Indian and Australian loans have advanced, and the heavy subscriptions to the Turkish and De Beers issues and some brewery debentures promise, however, an advance in speculative securities before long.

Foreign securities were virtually neglected and the changes were small. Home railroads were well supported owing to good freight receipts. American railroads received somewhat of the tariff prospects, but a pronounced improvement was checked by poor traffic receipts, the coal strike, etc. Nevertheless, the tendency appears to be upward and the feeling here is hopeful. Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul was 2 1/2 and Northern Pacific, preferred, 2 1/2 higher. The advance in Erie and the other Erie securities was due to the fact that the Erie securities were slightly improved. Grand Trunk securities were slightly improved. Canadian Pacific fell 1/4 on reports of damage done by floods. Argentine railroads dropped on poor traffic receipts. Mining stocks generally declined on realizations.

SPORTING RECORD.

KISSED A LION.

He Was a Wild One and Resented It.

Louth Wins the Grand Steeplechase de Paris—The Summer Race Meeting of the Kansas City Jockey Club.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

CONEY ISLAND (N. Y.) June 10.—The 12-year-old girl, known as Mlle. Beatrice, who has been the lion of the island, was badly bitten on the face by the African lion Nero tonight. At the close of the performance Mlle. Beatrice, as a final attraction, attempted to kiss the lion. He was quiet when she approached, but without the slightest warning snapped at her and sunk his fangs into her cheek.

The girl's cheeks were badly torn, but she did not show any excitement, although many in the audience were terrified. She struck the lion on the head with her whip, and then backed out of the cage. The physician who attended her found her wounds were quite dangerous.

A RACE FOR BIG MONEY.

PARIS, June 10.—(By Atlantic Cable.)

The grand Steeplechase de Paris for £107,450, at four miles and one-half furlongs, was run at Auttel today. It was won by Louth, Swanshot was second and Veul third.

KANSAS CITY RACES.

The Summer Meeting of the Jockey Club to Open June 30.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

KANSAS CITY, June 10.—The summer race meeting of the Kansas City Jockey Club, which will open Wednesday, June 20, promises to be the most successful ever held in Kansas City. The number of the leading stables of the West, including those of Pat Corrigan, Pat Dunne, Dan Honig, Al Worth, the Humboldt stables and the Batchelder, Peter Weber and others of the same class have engaged to race here.

The most valuable stake of the meeting, the Kansas City cup, will be run on the opening day, and the field of starters will number a number of the best horses in the West.

A SENSATIONAL CASE.

A Marriage in Boston's Upper Circles Attacked by a Suicide.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

BOSTON, June 10.—A startling revelation has been made in the city which involves two of Boston's wealthiest families, and a marriage and a suicide are the principal features.

Last Tuesday afternoon Miss Laura Wheelwright, daughter of John W. Wheelwright, of the firm of Wheelwright, Eldridge & Co., a prominent member of the Boston elite, married to George Herbert Wendler of Long Island Hall, Surrey, England, in King's Chapel, in the city, by Rev. G. F. D. Peabody.

Prior to leaving her home, the bride received a letter from Benjamin F. Cox, 30 years old, in which he said: "I cannot bear to see you married to a man who is not less than fifteen years, and a citizen; he shall be elected to hold office for six years and cannot succeed himself in office."

WASHINGTON, June 10.—It is expected on both sides of the Senate chamber that the woollen schedule will be reached during the present week. It is stated that there is a tacit agreement among the Republican and Democratic leaders that the debate shall be continued under the five-minute rule on the woolen, cotton manufactures and flax schedules. Senator Aldrich, as the representative of the Republican side of the chamber, expressed the opinion that these schedules would be disposed of with very slight delay. He says the understanding for the five-minute speeches would not be continued when the woollen schedule should be reached, he expressed the opinion that three or four days' debate would be necessary before the wool and woollen schedule is acted upon.

Some of the Democratic leaders think the schedule may be disposed of in two days. This schedule will be reached during the present week. The Weather.
U. S. Weather Bureau, Los Angeles, Cal., June 10, 1894.—At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 29.77 deg.; at 5 p.m., 29.77 deg.; for the corresponding hours the thermometer showed 72 deg. and 66 deg. Maximum temperature, 72 deg.; minimum temperature, 55 deg. Character of the weather, clear. Barometer reduced to sea level.

C. D. Howry, the leading funeral director, in fitting up and furnishing the large residence he now occupies for his business, on Broadway, near Fifth street, took a decided step in advance of his competitors. The importance of this acquisition to Los Angeles cannot be overestimated. All the conveniences of a home are furnished by Mr. Howry, including bedrooms for friends of the deceased, private rooms for friends, toilet-rooms, private reception-rooms and parlors "worthy of the name" for holding funerals.

The Redondo Hotel, at Redondo Beach, is now open for the summer season, in charge of the new proprietors, Messrs. Lynch & Hall, the former manager having been the manager for the Redondo Company for the past two years, and the latter is the well-known and popular proprietor of the Hotelback Cafe. We bespeak for the new firm the patronage they deserve, and hope that their formal opening on the 15th will be an augury for the season.

The annual graduating exercises of the Los Angeles Business College will take place next Thursday evening at the Los Angeles Theater. A fine musical program has been arranged, which, with two short addresses, will constitute the exercises of the evening. The public is cordially invited. Reserved seats, 25 cents, on sale at box office Tuesday, June 12, at 11 a.m. On and after Tuesday, June 12, the terminal train leaving Los Angeles at 11 a.m. and leaving Altadena at 12 noon, will be discontinued north of Pasadena, except on Saturdays, when it will be run as heretofore. Excursion to Catalina Island, every Sunday, returning same evening, train connecting with steamer leaves Arcade Depot at 8:30 a.m.

Art exhibition works of Mochod, Koch, Schmitt, Rind, and students, Wednesday afternoon, School Art and Science Building. New books every day. Society and counting-house stationery. The William M. Edwards Co., 114 W. First street.

The first annual picnic of "La Legion Francaise," the new French military and benevolent organization, at the Main-street Garden yesterday, was well attended, and quite a handsome sum was realized.

Prof. A. J. McClatchie, botanist, of the Throop Polytechnic Institute, will read a paper on "Useful Plants" before the Science Association at the Chamber of Commerce Hall Tuesday evening. Miss Alice Merritt of the Normal School will have a paper on the "Insect Galls of Some California Flowering Plants." Admission free.

Complaint has been made that the contractors for the construction of the Hilt-street sewer are permitting construction materials to be piled up so close to the electric car tracks as to be a menace to safety.

People riding on the platforms of the University cars, who chanced to have their feet projecting a little beyond the edge of the steps, have been struck by the materials piled so close to the track.

PERSONALS.

Bishop Nichols, who has been the guest for several days of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Severance, leaves today for the North.

A. M. Cates, a younger brother of Dr. H. C. Cates, returned from the East yesterday morning, after a year's absence, upon a well-earned vacation.

C. W. Buck of Highland, Ill., is at the Westminster. Mr. Buck, who is a traveling man, thinks that Los Angeles has weathered the financial storm better than any other city of its size.

Dr. T. G. Horn and wife of Colorado Springs, Colo., arrived in the city on their return from the meeting of the American Medical Association yesterday, and are guests at the Lincoln Hotel, being old friends of Mr. and Mrs. Pascoe.

RAILROAD AFFAIRS.

Sunday Excursion Business Was Good—Christian Endeavor Rates.

Southern Pacific trains carried great crowds of people to Santa Monica yesterday. The beach presented a typical summer Sunday appearance, being almost crowded, especially near the new bath house. On account of the incomplete condition of the bath-house it was not generally used by the public. It will be in better shape a week hence.

The summer weather yesterday attracted a large number of people to Redondo, the Santa Fe's trains thither being all well filled.

The Burlington has withdrawn its $24.75 rate from Kansas City to Cleveland and return on account of the Christian Endeavor Convention, and given notice that the regular association rate of $21.75 for round trip to the above convention would be applied from Kansas City. The $24.75 rate was made jointly by the Burlington and Clover Leaf, and while it was higher than the authorized association rate it included $10 or $12 worth of extras in the way of berth, meals, and lake excursions, and if the rate had not been withdrawn it would undoubtedly have been precipitated a lively rate war.

The work of cutting down the grade and double-tracking the Southern Pacific's Santa Monica line at The Palms is far advanced. An important improvement is being made there, it having become necessary by the increasing traffic on the line.

Interest is again revived in the proposed Fresno and Monterey road, though there is no likelihood of the enterprise being pushed through at once. It is said that the only difficulty in the route is in getting over the Coast Range, and what point will be selected for the cut is not yet determined as far as known. It is thought, though, that the only available point will be the Pinosche Pass in San Benito county. There has been considerable gossip indulged in among railroad men regarding the road and as to its practicability from a pecuniary standpoint.

Talking at Long Range an Assured Fact.

Conversations at Fresno Plainly Heard at This End of the Line by Vibrations of the Larynx—Novel Experiments.

A series of experiments in long-distance telephoning with Fresno and also with San Francisco, from this city, were conducted yesterday, and, considering the conditions under which they were had, the experiments were in a large measure successful.

The connections were made at 11 o'clock yesterday morning in one of the rooms of the Western Union office, that being about the only time when wires are available for such purposes. The experiment, or experiments, as they may be called, were conducted by O. H. Ensign of this city.

The device used for most of the talking is what is known as a stethophone, and differs from the common telephone in that both the receiver and transmitter are combined in one piece, which is not much heavier than the ordinary receiver, or earpiece, and which, like the ordinary receiver, is attached to the rest of the apparatus only by the cords, or wires, which keep it in electrical communication with the circuit.

The stethophone consists of a handle about six inches in length, from one end of which projects perpendicularly an ordinary receiver. From the other end of the handle, in a direction parallel with the receiver, runs the transmitter, which is about three inches long. When in use the receiver is held to the ear, while, at the same time, the end of the transmitter is pressed firmly against the larynx. The person talking does so in an ordinary tone, or, perhaps, somewhat nearer a bass note, and the vibrations of the larynx are, by means of the direct contact, communicated to the transmitter.

Within the transmitter is a short pencil of carbon, attached to and within a sensitive spiral spring. As the pencil of carbon is jarred, the spring to which it is attached permits it to vibrate, and, at each vibration, it touches another piece of carbon. As the pieces of carbon are brought in contact or separated, the electric current is interrupted and the interruptions cause corresponding vibrations in the receiver in the hand of the person listening, who is thus able to hear the conversation.

By reason of the manner in which the instrument is constructed, the person using it may stand or sit in any position he desires, without breaking in on the conversation, so long as he keeps the receiver to the ear and the transmitter pressed firmly to the larynx.

After adjusting the instruments yesterday the first connection was made with Fresno. At this time the Fresno man, after having been talked to repeatedly by telegraph that he could hear very well although he could not make himself heard. A little later he was able to make himself heard very well. While he was talking a magneto telephone at this end of the line was connected and Mr. Vincent at Fresno was asked to count ten. He did so twice, and the Fresno man was heard plainly by nearly a dozen men who were standing around the magneto telephone. He was asked to sing "After the Ball" for the edification of the Los Angeles men, but he refused. He was then asked, to sing something else, but about that time there seemed to be an interruption in the circuit.

Connections were made with San Francisco a number of times, both with earth return and with a metallic circuit. A dozen or more times a few words could be understood, but there were frequent interruptions as if other wires were swinging against the one in the circuit. Mr. Ensign would occasionally ring up San Francisco as an experiment in return from a ring as plain as that of a local telephone.

The effects of the electric car service in San Francisco could be heard to such an extent as to interfere with conversation. The objection from the telegraph lines interfered seriously. In one or two cases Chief Operator Hatch was able to take the message which was causing the interference and by locating the wire on which it was being sent, arrange so as to prevent the interference.

The stethophone used in yesterday's experiments is a manufacture of the patents of the American Stethophone Company of Chicago, and was introduced on this Coast by W. J. Bell of that city, who is the inventor of the device. The improvement on the instrument has been patented by a Los Angeles man.

The first patent on the stethophone was taken out about two years ago, but, although the device has been in use for some time, it did not expire till January 20, which it was brought before the public till recently.

A company is being organized with a view to establishing the stethophone for long distance and other work. It is believed that with properly isolated circuits conversations may be had with ease as far as San Francisco.

FOUND A FRIEND.

A Wayfarer Falls into Good Hands in San Francisco.

A peculiar-looking individual, travel-stained, weary and carrying an extra hat and a very small bundle tied up in a bandana handkerchief, presented himself at the window of the clerk's office at the police station yesterday afternoon and inquired of Clerk Bean whether or not he could direct him to the residence of one J. W. Turner. As he produced a dirty and crumpled note addressed to "J. W. Turner, No. 125 Clay street," Clerk Bean questioned the stranger, who appeared to be half-witted, and learned that he had just arrived from San Francisco.

He stated that his name was Jacob Schumacher, and that he came from Peru, Ind., a few days ago. When he arrived in San Francisco he had only a few cents in his pocket, but he met a young man named P. Ricks, a short time after his arrival, and his new acquaintance at once evinced a deep interest in him. Upon learning that he was without means Ricks furnished him with money for his immediate needs, and later on gave him the note to Turner, purchased a ticket to Los Angeles for him, and gave him a few dollars with which to defray his traveling expenses. The note was in the nature of a request that Turner would put the bearer to work.

As the stranger looked sleepy and hungry, an offer of temporary accommodation was made, but he declined it, stating that he still had enough money to last him for a day or two, and, after resting upon the steps of the old City Hall for a little while, disappeared.

That an entire stranger should have taken so much interest in the unfortunate stranger, as the benevolent Mr. Ricks of San Francisco appears to have done, seems somewhat strange, but Mr. Schumacher had nothing to lose when he landed in San Francisco. It is self-evident that his friend Ricks was not actuated by unkind motives in shipping him down here, as might otherwise have been supposed.
